

Contact a Community Work Incentives Coordinator (CWIC)

Fact Sheet 2025

What is a CWIC?

CWICs are certified benefits counselors who can assist individuals receiving Supplemental Security Income (SSI) and/or Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI), and who are either working or actively seeking employment. Their purpose is to provide timely and accurate information about work incentives, as well as benefits analysis and guidance. CWICs provide beneficiaries with the necessary information to feel comfortable in taking the next step on their career path and towards financial well-being.

When is the best time to contact a CWIC?

In order of priority, when a beneficiary is:

- Employed or self-employed and has questions or concerns about how their benefits are being affected by their earnings, which includes but is not limited to:
 - Getting a pay raise
 - Increasing or decreasing their hours
 - Receiving a notice of an overpayment
 - Considering employer health insurance
 - Quitting a job due to concerns about loss of benefits
- Considering a job offer and trying to decide about whether or not to accept it
- Currently and actively seeking work and going on job interviews

Who do I contact for general questions?

If not currently working and not actively seeking employment, or if just starting to think about the idea of work and have some general questions about how work earnings could impact Social Security disability benefits, call the Ticket to Work Help Line at 1-866-968-7842 or 866-833-2967 (TTY), Monday-Friday 7AM-7PM ET.

How are Work Without Limits Benefits Counseling services delivered?

Depending on a beneficiary's employment status, the referral's priority level (as described in the second section of this document), and whether a situation is deemed urgent or not, CWIC services will be delivered in a variety of ways, including:

- Over-the-phone benefits counseling sessions
- Virtual/Zoom counseling sessions
- Written technical reports, i.e., Information and Referral (I&R) Letter or Benefits Summary and Analysis (BS&A)
- General work incentives information in the form of fact sheets or other written materials via mail, email or downloaded from our web site
